About Cambria

Cambria is a privately held, family-owned company headquartered in Minnesota, with a facility in Kent Ohio, and a network of stone fabricator and installation partners throughout North America that share our commitment to quality, innovation and growth. Cambria is a stain resistant, nonporous natural quartz surface that is harder, stronger and easier to care for than other stone surfaces because it does not require sealing with chemical-based conditioners, polishers or wax.

Cambria is committed to environmentally friendly business practices. As the only producer of natural quartz surfaces in the United States, Cambria has a lower carbon footprint than international quartz manufacturers that require greater transportation and carbon resources to access the U.S. market. Cambria is LEED certified and recycles and reuses 100 percent of the water used in production. Our quartz surfaces do not off-gas and contain zero formaldehyde or volatile organic compounds (VOCs). Testing by Air Quality Sciences, Inc. (AQS), an International Organization for Standard (ISO), confirm that Cambria natural quartz surfaces have no harmful emissions of any type. With NSF International certified as safe for food preparation, and GREENGUARD for Children and Schools® and Indoor Air Quality Certified® certifications– there is no safer surface available to consumers.
